

LOCAL NEWS.

A special meeting of Independent Order of Good Templars, Onancock Lodge, will be held in their hall next Monday night.

The snow in leg of horse worth $100, of Mr. Smith T. Martin, near Trower P. O., was cut by a turned shoe lately, and thereby rendered worthless.

There is an advertisement in this paper that tells you where to go and save a dollar when you go to Onancock. Don't fail to read it. A dollar saved is a dollar made.

Mr. Geo. W. James, Bradford's Neck, had his collar bone broken by a fall from his wagon last week, but he is out again, not much the worse for wear by the mishap.

On Monday, the 13th inst., the Pullman Buffet Parlor Car service on through day express trains in both directions, was re-established between Philadelphia and Cape Charles.

Register at once if you want to vote at the next election. If you have moved from your last voting precinct, it is equally important that your transfer be registered at without delay.

In the races at Plover last week, Marandee, sold by Mr. Edward Nottingham, of Eastville, to a party in Philadelphia, was the winner in the racing race, making a record of 2 1/2.

Hon. Wm. A. Jones will address the voters of Northampton, at Eastville, October 23rd, 2 p. m., and at Capeville, October 24th, in the afternoon. A grand free lunch is to be given to all in attendance at Eastville.

Daniel, Jones, Washington and Smith, will address the voters of Accomac, as published elsewhere, during this month, and everyone who hears them cannot doubt what duty requires of him in November.

Rev. J. E. Allender, an evangelist of Maryland, has been assisting Rev. W. J. Twilley during the week in a revival meeting at Amis Chapel, near Accomac C. H. He was a welcome visitor to our office on Wednesday.

Cards are out for the marriage on 27th inst., at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Rogers, Finney, Va., of Mr. C. S. Waples, a prosperous merchant of Baltimore, and Miss Maggie H. Finney, one of the most popular and attractive young ladies of Accomac.

Mr. S. T. Keller, a dealer in hardware from his place, near Mappsville, one day last week, 72 barrels of sweets, with an average yield of a barrel for every 38 sprouts; and Mr. Jack Guy due on his premises, near Franktown, during the same week, 36 potatoes which filled a barrel—Next.

There will be a fair and festival held at Amis Chapel, Drummondtown Circuit, October 29th and 30th. The proceeds will be applied to paying off the debt on the church and completing it. Grand efforts will be made to make it a first class success. The fruits and confectioneries will be bought in the city for the occasion and will be fresh and attractive. All are invited to come.

Mr. D. H. Johnson, Leemont, has returned from the city with a superb line of goods, and is ready to supply his customers with everything needed in the usual avocations of life. To the gentlemen he has special inducements to offer in ready-made clothing—to the ladies, elegant wraps suitable for all sizes and ages—to everyone, fine furniture, cook and heating stoves, buggy harness, robes, blankets, whips, &c., too numerous to mention.

The following notice of the son of a former countyman, in the Advocate, October 4th, published at Gilroy, California, will be of interest to his friends on the Eastern Shore: "Dr. E. L. Parramore Jr., leaves San Francisco for Philadelphia, today, where he will continue the advancement of his profession. Dr. Parramore returned to California after his graduation and has since filled the important position of Assistant-Surgeon in the city and county hospital of Sacramento. He will in all probability be absent a year, and visit before his return many places of interest, both professional and social, including his native State, Virginia.

Albert J. McMath, executor, will sell at public auction on Saturday, October 25th, 2 p. m., on premises in Wachapreague, this county, valuable real estate, of which Jno. P. McMath, died, seized and possessed. Lot No. 1 has on it a large new dwelling, with 8 rooms, 2 halls, 2 porches and necessary outbuildings—with high lawn running from street to water's edge. Lot Nos. 2, 3 and 4 have also street and water fronts. Lot No. 1 is very valuable—the most valuable in the beautiful village of Wachapreague, and its location and surroundings make it very desirable, either as a home or a Club House—situated as it is, in the best gunning section on the Atlantic coast. For terms and other particulars, see posters or write to the executor, Oley, Va.

A pension has been granted by the Government to Isaac Evans, Pungoteague.

Mr. I. Gordon, Onancock, proposes to leave the county, and as will be noted elsewhere, is closing out his stock, and offers you bargains.

The marriage of P. O. Twyford, (of this county we presume), and Mrs. Kate Dillard, in Baltimore, on the 12th inst., is announced in the Sun.

Mrs. E. C. Pate has opened out a full line of fall and winter millinery goods at Leemont, and a call from her customers is respectfully invited.

Our readers will recognize in the advertisement of Mr. P. H. Pennewell, an old acquaintance. He is still selling the "White sewing machine," and believing it to be the best on the market, will handle no other machine.

Rev. A. J. Finstone, will preach at Drummondtown Baptist Church, tomorrow, at 11 a. m., and 7 1/2 p. m., and every night during next week. Rev. J. A. Barker, will preach at Zion Baptist Church, tomorrow, at 10 a. m., and at Leemont, at 5 p. m.

Jones Clubs have been organized at Onancock, Hoffman's wharf and Cradockville. Candidates for membership in the latter are requested to meet at M. T. Wise's store to night. Similar clubs will be organized this week throughout the county.

Mr. Zoro Willis, Exmore, declined the position of clerk of court of Northampton, tendered to him by the Judge recently, but his friends say, they will run him as a candidate for commissioner of revenue for Northampton, at next election, and will not allow him to decline that honor.

Hon. John W. Daniel, an orator without a superior in America, will address the voters of Accomac, at the court house, next court day, October 27th. It is hardly necessary to urge our people to be present on the occasion. They know too well his power as a speaker and have too much confidence in the wisdom of his utterances ever to miss an opportunity to hear him.

Mr. Frank Hollis, of Leenestville, has been confined for several weeks from a stroke of paralysis, but has improved so as to be out again. Mr. Hollis is a veteran of the late war, and bears the scars of severe wounds received in the line of duty while in the Government service, and from which he has suffered since, preventing him from manual labor. His present illness is due to such disabilities, and while we object to the paying out of the Government Treasury millions of money to those undeserving of the same, the case of Mr. Hollis is one deserving of recognition by the pension authorities.

Appointments for Speakers.
The following distinguished speakers will address the voters of Accomac at the following times and places:
SENATOR JOHN W. DANIEL, Accomac C. H., Monday, Oct. 27th, (court day).
HON. WM. A. JONES, Hoffman's Wharf, Wednesday, Oct. 22nd at night.

Greenbackville, Saturday, Oct. 25th, at night.
HON. LLOYD T. SMITH, Atlantic, Thursday, Oct. 23rd, at night.
New Church, Friday, Oct. 24th, at night.
Chincoteague, Saturday, Oct. 25th, at night.

Further appointments will appear in next issue of ENTERPRISE for many other points in Accomac.

JNO. W. BOWDOIN, County Chairman Dem. Com.

Millinery Notes.
Miss Nona Dix, Parkley, has just returned from the city with a full line of fall and winter millinery, and is now ready to accommodate her customers on reasonable terms with everything that is needed in her line of business, according to the latest style and best taste.

I take this method of saying to my friends and the public generally, that I have just opened at Onancock, a new and full line of millinery, embracing all the latest styles for fall and winter wear, also a full line of dress goods and notions, ladies' Astorian and plush capes, &c. E. A. Merrill, Onancock.

Mrs. Mary E. Rayfield, Mappsville, is now ready to accommodate her customers with a full line of fall and winter millinery—hats, feathers, ribbons and velvets. Goods selected by Miss B. die in person. Your patronage respectfully solicited, and she will endeavor to give entire satisfaction. Call at private dwelling next to Boxon's store, Mappsville.

Mrs. James Bird, Keller, is just home from the city with a full line of every thing pretty and attractive known to the millinery art, and proposes by careful attention and the exercise of the best taste to meet the demands of her customers upon her. A dress making establishment has also been opened in connection with her business, to be presided over shortly by a city dress-maker. Call and see her.

If you want a sewing machine, go where you can buy them at factory prices. We can sell you one for $20, $25 or $30—prices to suit every body. They are all warranted for 5 years by ASBURY & DELOAT.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

A Jones Club was organized in the Town Hall, on last Friday night, with a large membership.

Mrs. Sally W. Joyner, of Downingtown, Pa., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Dr. E. R. Leatherbury.

Miss Edith Leatherbury left last week for Baltimore, where she will attend school during the winter.

It is said, that one of our former citizens, who is now a popular "Knight of the Road" will shortly be wedded to a handsome and attractive young lady in Baltimore.

Mr. W. T. Wise moves into his new storehouse, next to postoffice, the coming week. Mr. J. H. Riley opened out his line of furniture in the Titlow building this week.

Dr. E. R. Leatherbury left on steamer Tangier, Monday en route to West tern Maryland, where he will spend several weeks for the purpose of seeking rest and recuperation.

In the future Rev. John Atkinson will preach in the P. E. Church at this place, on the Sundays when Rev. John McNaab is at Accomac C. H. The result will be regular service in Trinity church every Sunday evening.

Rev. J. B. Pruitt, lost valuables worth over $150 in the mail robbery at Louisville, Ky., on the 6th inst. The mail wagon was broken into and robbed and the registered letter containing Mr. Pruitt's property was found among a mass of torn open and rifled of its contents.

Belle Haven.
Mrs. Dr. W. E. Brickhouse, very ill of late, is improving.

A handsome dwelling is being erected by Mr. Jno. R. Floyd on Fitz Lee St.

Mrs. Edward L. Willis still continues very sick, without hope of any improvement in her condition.

Indie, daughter of Mr. John R. Flagg, while playing at school this week fell from a tree and broke her arm.

West, Willis & Wyatt again have their eyes on the pocket books of the ladies. They have just received a superb line of ladies' dress goods.

Chincoteague.
Mrs. John Calk, at this writing is critically ill.

Mrs. E. P. Timmons is visiting friends in Philadelphia.

Mr. Peter D. Corbin and wife returned from a tour of recreation to Norfolk on Saturday.

Mr. Joshua Wheaton is having a large wharf built on his property adjoining Timmon's store.

Dr. N. S. Smith takes the cake as the largest sweet potato grower on Chincoteague. It weighed 5 pounds 6 ounces.

A lady was baptized by Rev. Mr. Turner, Sunday afternoon. Four colored people were immersed by their pastor in morning of same day.

Rev. Mr. Turner of Cape Charles, has accepted a call to Union Baptist Church at salary of $300 and rent of parsonage. He preached to large and appreciative audience on Sunday.

The statement being doubted by some of the readers of ENTERPRISE as to the purchase of 50 cases of gum boots by Mr. E. P. Timmons, before the new tariff law went into effect, inquiry showed that it was 60 cases instead of 50.

Arrivals at Atlantic Hotel this week: A. K. Bayne, J. A. Ellwood, Phila.; R. B. Fisher and wife, Baltimore; H. H. Fletcher, M. E. Silby, Jas. Mc-Glathery, H. S. Lewis, Robt. Faust, Wilmington, Del.; E. D. Bots, Pocomoke; W. K. Collins, P. Westcott, E. Wescott, Logan Henderson, John H. Marvin, Thos. Pettit, Accomac.

Parkley.
Edward Patterson, aged 7 years, died Monday, of membranous croup.

The Democrats of this vicinity are jubilant over the Congressional prospects in this district, this year.

The Parkley Alliance is growing rapidly. From ten to twelve persons present themselves weekly for membership. Cheering reports from other branches of the organization in Accomac are being received also, which show that the farmers are waking up and propose to look after their interests.

Mappsville.

The corn crop in this section, compared with last year, is short one-fourth.

Mappsville is expecting a boom shortly, and the wheelwright and smith that apply early will find here remunerative employment.

Mr. Solomon Byrd is the champion potato grower of the neighborhood. One dug by him weighed 8 pounds and was 29 inches in circumference.

Murray is raging in this section. Eleven cows of Mr. John T. Turner have died of the disease, and more of them are sick and likely to die.

Our people continue busy in getting off their potato crop. Seven cars were loaded with our staple product last Tuesday. The prices are low despite the statesmanlike efforts of the "potato candidate" as he calls himself, thinking thereby to deceive the people.

Hornstown.
Mrs. Wm. D. Cropper, seriously ill of late with typhoid fever, is almost well again.

The schoolhouse so long needed here is nearing completion. The schools in vicinity are open and largely attended.

Mr. T. P. Evans has opened out his full stock of general merchandise, and is offering the same cheap for cash or produce.

Mr. James E. Gludhaz is the only one now in town on the sick list, and though quite sick, his condition is not considered dangerous.

A fair and festival will be held here, October 22nd, during afternoon and night, for benefit of M. E. Church, South. Oysters and the usual confectioneries will be served.

Marsh Market.
Rev. W. A. Street will preach at Hall's Chapel, next Sunday afternoon.

Many drizzle boats sailed from our waters for the Potomac, on last Monday.

The public luges in this section are almost impossible, and should have immediately the attention of the surveyor of roads.

Geo. Holden, colored, caught in Cullen's swamp, on the 8th, a rattlesnake with 13 rattles and 10 inches in circumference. A forked stick was the weapon, offensive and defensive, used to overcome his snakeship. Since the capture the snake has become quite tame, and submits with perfect good nature to the caresses of his master. He proposes to bring him to Baltimore, and hopes to realize largely on the venture.

The Commissioner of Agriculture and Hon. T. H. Bay's Browne.
Monday was court day in Caroline county. A large crowd of persons were present, and a full discussion took place between Assistant District Attorney Lyb B. Istow and Hon. Bay's Browne, representing the Republicans, and Col. Tom Whitehead on behalf of the Democrats. The Commissioner of Agriculture, when asked by one of the Republican orators why he had come over to the First District to tell the people how to vote replied that he came at the request of the farmers of Caroline county to champion their cause.

TIE ALLIANCE CAN'T SUPPORT HIM.
He then reminded the members of the Alliance that they could not vote for Candidate Browne without entirely disregarding the platform of the Farmers' Alliance, which declares that no member of that organization shall vote for a railroad attorney.

The Colonel then informed his hearers that Mr. Browne was the paid attorney of the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad Company and no Republican who is a member of the Farmers' Alliance and is true to its principles can vote for him.

NOT PREFERRED FOR THIS.
Mr. Browne had not been met with this argument before and he and his friends looked as if a bonfire had exploded in their midst.

No reply could be made to the argument, as Mr. Browne could not deny that he was a railroad attorney.

Col. Whitehead, who is one of the best stump speakers in Virginia, also scored Browne severely for voting for the McKinley bill, which he declared was one of the most unjust measures to the farmers ever passed by Congress—State.

Obituary.
Mamie Pearl, the little two year old daughter of Mr. Samuel C. and Mrs. Ida V. Nelson, of Accomac C. H., departed this life on Tuesday, October 14th, at 6 o'clock a. m. Little Pearl was the life of her home; and, as such, she was not only loved by the immediate family, and those nearly related to her, but by quite a large circle in and out of the family, she was almost adored. Her little eyes flashed with beauty and intellectual brilliancy. Her little voice ringing with merry laughter, or musically chanting the sacred songs of a Savior's love, made earth brighter and life's tolls lighter. But they are hushed—no more, though we cannot hear them now, nevertheless, with that and voice attuned to the music of heaven, she unites with the miriads of little ones that Christ has called unto Himself, in the sweetest strains of adoration. The crushed, sorrowing hearts are looking heavenward for "Home, sweet home." May every tear be lighted with the bow of promise.

Farmers Alliance.
Public meetings of the Farmers' Alliance will be held as follows:
At Temperanceville, Thursday afternoon, Oct. 23rd at 2 o'clock p. m.
At Parkley camp-ground, Friday, Oct. 24th at 2 p. m.
At Turlington's camp-ground, Saturday, Oct. 25th at 2 p. m.

Prominent speakers will address the people. Everybody cordially invited and ladies especially.

By order of President Accomac County Alliance.
Jno. J. DUNNISON, Sec.
